IMPORTANT CLINIMINDS ANNOUNCEMENT

Oracle Clinical & Oracle Argus Safety Software Training

Cliniminds is pleased to announce the launch of Oracle Clinical & Argus Safety Software training for its programs in clinical research, clinical data management and pharmacovigilance. Programs have been designed to give complete experience to the participants. Participants would be provided extensive hands on training on software, independent log in access to practice, presentations and discussion forums.

This software training would add major skills to the students, increase their employment opportunities and would be offered better salaries.

Extensive training would be provided to all marketing team members to ensure that we provide this very important information to all our potential students.
